WHO IS YCHA?

36-year old established architectural practice with projects and commissions largely within the Charlotte, NC and upstate SC region. The work of the firm is extremely diverse and provides an opportunity for young, talented Designers to participate in the development of complex projects that require creativity, passion, and thoroughness.

The firm provides a stable, collaborative work environment. As a smaller practice, a tremendous opportunity exists for an individual who wishes to learn, collaborate, experience, and be a part of something greater.

YCHA consistently competes with larger firms in Charlotte and other surrounding areas for complex projects.

WHAT CAN WE OFFER YOU?

- Daily collaboration with experienced and creative Architects and other design professionals.
- We provide an opportunity for you to explore the many facets of architectural practice that may be of a specific interest to you.
- We provide an opportunity for you to become a leader and responsible collaborator with the design team.
- We offer competitive compensation and financially reward all individuals within the practice who demonstrate commitment of personal and professional achievement. It is our expectation and goal to financially reward "overachievers."
- YCHA provides competitive benefits for all team members, including Insurance, vacation, sick leave, profit sharing, and maximum profit distribution as allowed under IRS-allowed Safe Harbor Plan.
- All work and no play does not necessarily help a young Architect. Therefore, we try to be sensitive to each individual's personality, interest, and diversity to allow for a balance between professional and personal time.
- We will financially assist in the areas of professional development and organizations.

OUR EXPECTATIONS OF YOU

- 4-year degree in Architecture or a Master's in Architecture
- Proficient with REVIT as a production tool
- Proficiency in AutoCad is a plus
- Proficiency in 3-D visualization and modeling software, including SketchUp, Rhino, and Enscape
- Experience with Adobe Suite
- Depending upon interest and experience, you can begin to assist in the development of business development, BIM Modeling, and introduction into the world of Construction Document preparation
